PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE.—I know all about washing clothes. For several years I have conducted one of the largest public laundries in N. Y; at present I am furning out 25 pieces daily. I have been compelied also to investigate and test the various Washing Machines of the day, and can truly say that the "Union," sold by J. Ward & Co., 25 Cortland street, New York, is the only one
I have found, worth house-noom. Two of them are now and have been for years in constant use in my laundry.

YENTREDAY was a dull, gloomy day, depressing everybody, and making the gathering of items for this column a very up-hill business.

SAMARITANISM .- Night before last SAMARITANISM.—Night before last, officer Tracy ran across a wretched specimen of a man, imbecile from too much whisky, whom he put out of harm's way by taking him to the lock-up. Yesterday morning, having recovered from his drunkenness, he was suffered to go at liberty.

NOTWITHSTANDING the rain and gen NOTWITHSTANDING the rain and general unpleasantness of the weather yesterday, Main street in the immediate vicinity of the Merchants' National Bank, presented a lively scene. At that point the business of laying water pipes was going forward briskly, and curious people would stand gazing at the work for a half hour at a stretch.

Excitment.—Yesterday morning the curlosity of many of our citizens was gratified by a look at the famous horses, Dexter and Putchen, as they passed down Market street to be shod at Charnock's blacksmith shop, and again as they returned to the fair grounds. A large crowd assembled at the smith shop, to witness the interesting process of shoeing.

THE Synod of Wheeling meets to day in the First Presbyterian Church (Rev. D. W. Fisher's) at 2 o'clock. The Synod will be opened by a sermon from Rev. Mr. Grimes, of Cadiz, Ohio. The present meeting of Synod is expected to be an interesting one. The Ministers composing it will have appointments in the various churches throughout the city on the Sabbath. Its sessions are open to the public.

FASHIONABLE CLOTHING.—On the streets, M. Gutman & Co. keep one of the largest stocks of clothing, furnishing goods, cassimeres etc., in the city. Their stock of ready made clothing is very extensive, and their facilities for a sight of the great demonstration; and although the hour was late when the procession arrived at the Central Club Rooms, the vicinity was as thick with speciators as when it started out.

The following are a few of the sentences, many of which were full of point, which appeared upon the transparencies and placards borne in the procession:

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!—All soldiers in the city and county, favorable to the success of the great Republican party, who have not yet connected themselves with any of the organizations of Boys in Blue, are earnestly requested to go to-night to the headquarters of Co. A, lat Regiment West Virginia Boys in Blue, at the Court House, and place their names upon the roll of patriots. This matter should be attended to without fall, for in organization there is out fall, for in organization there strength.

out fall, for in organization there is strength.

"THE DULL TOWN."—The "local" of a Washington City paper, commenting on the exceeding quiet of that city on Sunday last, says, on that day, "only twenty arrests were made in Washington, Georgetown, Uniontown, and the county by the police. The day was an exceedingly quiet one, and only a few helplessly drunk persons and a few for minor offences were taken into custody." Only twenty arrests made! Think of that, citizens of Wheeling. Twenty arrests for all sorts of offences are not made here in a month. It speaks well for the pesceable character of our citizens, but Wheeling is not the place to localize. Washington is the land flowing with milk and honey.

In the case of M. C. Leech against Henry Rosenthal, appeal from justice, a verdict was rendered for plaintiff. The case of John L. Hobbs, administrator of estate of Simon Wonderlick deceased, against Lewis Steubenraugh and John W. Schultz, was taken up and will be concluded to-day.

The case of Patsy Brannon, for rape was set for Monday at 9 A.M.; and that of Lawrence Cady, for the same offense, for Wednesday. The energy which the prosecution has shown in collecting evidence in the case of those parties charged with rape upon Rebecca Burkhardt, is deserving of all praise, and merits the thanks of the community. The conviction of one of them, Joseph Cline, and his sentence to the penitentiary for 15 years, will sarve as a warning to those, who may be tempted to the commission of crime, that it cannot be done with impunity under our present efficient prosecuting and judicial officers.

Several parties were naturalized, and the Court adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock.

at 9 o'clock.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.—On Monday afternoon last a frightful accident oc occurred on the Pittsburgh and Cleveland Railroad, by which a son of Capt. Henry Reno, Robinson street, Allegates, Pa., came to an untimely end. The little fellow had stayed away that day from school, and had been wandering around the city, and it is supposed in the afternoon, about two o'clock, had jumped on to the Pittsburgh and Cleveland express cars going west, with the intention of riding as far as Wood's Rau. Before the train reached that point, he attempted to get off, and becoming entangled in some way, was thrown under the wheels of the cars, which completely severed his body in twain, and cutting off his right arm from the shoulder, besides horribly mangling his body. His remains were gathered up, placed in a coffin and taken to B. T. White's, Manchester, for identification. Strange to say, that although fibe boy had lived in the neighborhood for years, no person recognised him. Tuesday morning, his father, having heard of the death of a boy on the railroad, became alarmed about the safety of his boy, whom, he supposed, had gone the night previous fo visit a married sister who was residing in Pittsburgh. Imagine the parent's feet in the Roby on the frailroad, became alarmed about the safety of his boy, whom, he supposed, had gone the night previous fo visit a married sister who was residing in Pittsburgh. Imagine the parent's feet in the remains of the unidentified boy in Mr. White's establishment were those of his own son.

THE BOYS IN BLUE!

the Campaign.

During the whole of yesterday the sky was overcast with clouds, and every once in a while the rain came down, rendering things exceedingly unpleasant. Towards evening the wind chauged round and blew from the morth, and it seemed as though the grand torchlight procession for the evening would be a failure. But the splrit that animates the brave Boys in Blue and other Republicans of Wheeling and Chio county was too real and enthusiastic to be put down by the most malignant frowns of the weather, and they accordingly turned out about seven o'clock in great numbers. At the Custom House the procession was formed, with an advance of about 80 or 100 horsemen from the country, all of whom served in the Union army, through the war, as cavairy. Next came a brass band, and immediately after Co. A. Ist Regiment Boys in Blue, with transparencies inscribed with appropriate motioes, Chinese lanterns, to. A large delegation from Benwood came next, also liberally supplied wish transparencies, Chinese lanterns, torches, &c. A gun came next, drawn by powerful horses, and manned by men, who had grown accustomed to the real thing in the field. Then the Marshail county Boys in Blue came "marching along," as they have done many times before, to victory. Other delegations followed, and here was one of the most interesting features of that procession, in the graceful shape of a Ship of State, drawn by elegant horses, carrying the regiments, some of them with the marks of many a hard fought battle upon their folds. The ship was filled with soldlers wearing cavalry sabres.—The procession was closed by the La Belle bove Co. B. First Regiment W.

Along the entire route of march the "rocket's red glare," the beautiful red and blue and green lights of Roman sandles, the crack of exploding fireworks, the gally illuminated and fancifully decorated houses and fancifully decorated houses and places of busiess, combined to render, the demonstration an unbounded success. We were not able to follow the procession along its entire line of march, and cannot therefore particularize to a very great extent in reticularize to a very great extent in re-gard to the taste displayed by individ-uals in illuminating and decorating their houses, but we may notice that of E. M. and Fred. Norton, Esqs. These gentlemen are the sort of Republicans we like to see. They come out on all occasions, as do many more in our city. Between the pillars in front of the resi-dence of E. M. Norton was displayed the motices:

Before you warm a Copperhead in you Bosom, extract his Fangs." If you must unchain the Tiger, muzzle his and cut his claws."

The State House, on Fifth and Centre, was brilliantly lighted, presenting the finest illumination in the city. The windows on three sides, fronting Centre, Fifth and Quincy, were a blaze of light. Three lanterns, red, white and blue, were run up on the flag staff high above the roof. The lower windows on the Fifth street front exhibited the following mottoes:

the Fifth street front exhibited the fol-lowing mottoes:

"West Virginia Remembers her Friends."

"Lincoln, our Friend in Need: We Cherish his Memory."

"Will You Walk into my Farior? Old Virginia."

"Not any, thank you, West Virginia."

"No surrender, either to Johnson or Jeff.

Cheer after cheer rolled along the line as the companies filed by the Cap-itol and turned up Centre, and the cheering was kept up all along the route, from time to time, as the procesion passed brilliantly lighted lences of Union citizens. P. S.—Since writing the above we have learned that some rascally scoundrels threw stones at the procession while on the marnh, one of which struck a soldier in the Ship of State on the head, injuring him severely.
